

JR. SPECIAL AGENT TRAINING MANUAL

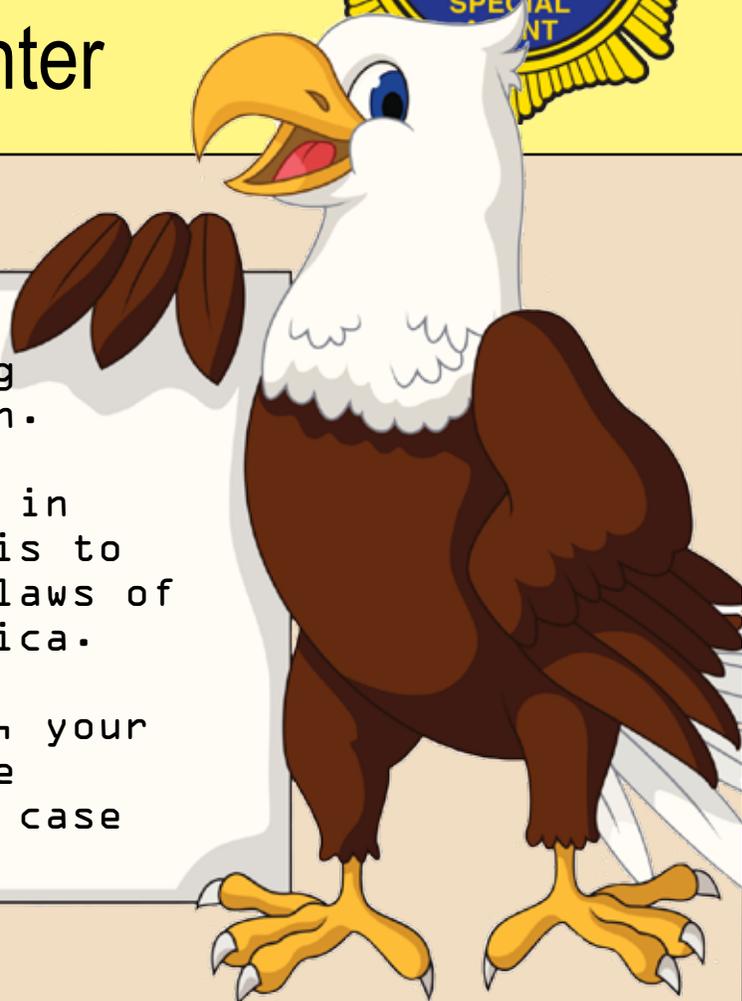

Welcome to the DEA Museum and Visitors Center

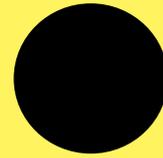

Special Agents are a very important part of the Drug Enforcement Administration.

They must be well trained in many areas and their job is to enforce the federal drug laws of the United States of America.

As a Junior Special Agent, your mission is to complete the assignments and solve the case in this training manual.

SUSPECTS

Suspect 1:

Ben Intrubble is a construction worker who lives in Smallstown, NY. He has previously been arrested for cooking and selling Methamphetamine and has developed a serious Oxycontin addiction.

Suspect 2:

Janeed Tewbye works at the grocery store in Smallstown, NY. Janeed spent time in jail for cooking and selling Methamphetamine. Janeed swears he has been drug-free since his release and has never failed a drug test.

Suspect 3: Eileen Wennestand currently works as a hostess at a restaurant in Smallstown, NY, but has spent time in jail for cooking and selling Methamphetamine. Eileen has a history of using Meth, but has never tried another drug.

Suspect 4:

Juan NaCook works at a Pizza Parlor in Smallstown, NY. He has previously been arrested for cooking and selling Methamphetamine. Juan suffers from an Oxycontin addiction that developed when visiting friends in Turkey.

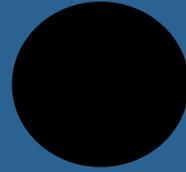

Suspect 5: Anita Fixx lives in Smallstown, NY. She cooked and sold Methamphetamine with her friend Eileen Wennestand to help pay some bills. After spending time in jail, Anita developed an addiction to Oxycontin and is still unable to find a full time job.

SPECIAL AGENT

Great job decoding the letter!
You found out that the Ephedrine is being sent to New York.

You will complete the next activities as a DEA Special Agent.

A SPECIAL AGENT
DOES INVESTIGATIONS, GATHERS EVIDENCE,
AND MAKES ARRESTS
TO BRING ABOUT THE CONVICTION OF DRUG TRAFFICKERS AND MONEY LAUNDERERS.

Find these items that DEA agents wore during undercover investigations.

Activity 3: You find out that the Ephedrine is being delivered to a remote trailer park in Smallstown, NY. As an agent you must go undercover to do surveillance.

The trailer park is very muddy this time of year
and it is hard to walk without proper shoes.

Suspect 1

Suspect 2

Suspect 3

Suspect 4

Suspect 5

Study the clothes of the suspects. Which suspect can you eliminate based on their shoes?

Which suspect should you eliminate? _____
Why did you eliminate him/her? _____

Activity 4: Find these items in the museum.

What drug can be made from these items?

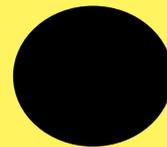

While undercover you come across a trailer. Is there enough evidence in this trailer to suspect that this is the location of a methamphetamine lab?

Circle the items that might be evidence

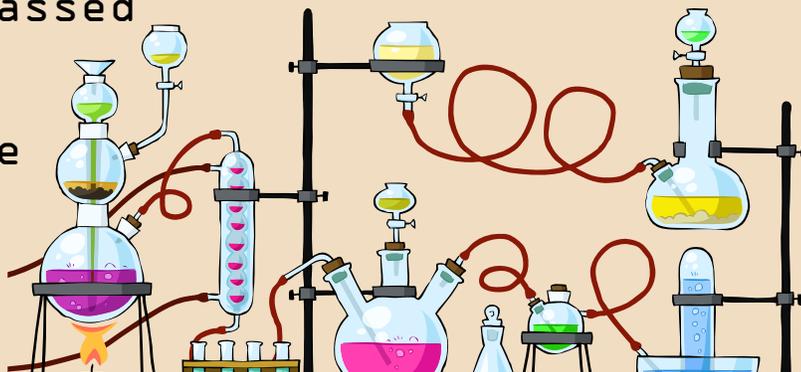

CHEMIST

You did a great job as an undercover agent!

Because of your observations, the trailer is now classed as a crime scene.

Next, you must examine the crime scene as a Forensic Chemist.

A FORENSIC CHEMIST WORKS IN THE LAB AND FIELD TO COLLECT AND ANALYZE DRUGS AND OTHER CHEMICALS TO DETERMINE TYPE, COMPOSITION, AND SOURCE.

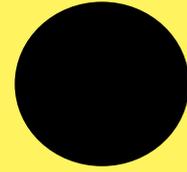

Activity 5: You examine the scene and find a bottle of small, round pills. Use the “DEA Jobs” touchscreen kiosk to determine what drugs these are.

Tap the “Forensic Chemist” option and follow the directions until you match these pills with their name.

What kind of pills are these? _____

CHEMIST

While undercover, you heard that the suspect used this specific drug. Go back to your suspect list.

Which suspects are known to have an addiction to this drug?

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Which suspect should you eliminate? _____

Activity 6: Forensic Chemists are trained to analyze fingerprints. You have pulled two fingerprints from objects found at the crime scene.

Draw lines to connect the matching fingerprints.

Suspect 5

Which suspect should you eliminate? _____

INTELLIGENCE

Great work matching the fingerprints!

The Special Agents arrest the suspects and bring them in.

You are now a DEA Intelligence Analyst and must complete the final activities.

INTELLIGENCE ANALYSTS GATHER AND ANALYZE INFORMATION WORLD-WIDE TO UNCOVER HIDDEN PATTERNS AND TRENDS. IT IS PREFERRED THAT THE INTELLIGENCE ANALYST IS ABLE TO SPEAK SPANISH.

Activity 7: Examine the contents of each suspect's wallet. Remember to refer back to the information you have already learned.

Hint: Keep in mind which countries you identified as part of the drug trade.

INTELLIGENCE

Activity 8: To solve the case, you must interview the suspects. Read the interview questions and suspects' answers.

Hint:
The guilty suspect is lying and the innocent suspect is telling the truth.

Suspect 1:

Question: Why were your fingerprints found at the crime scene?

Answer: There's no way my prints were at the scene. I've never even been to Smallstown.

Suspect 2:

Question: Why were your fingerprints found at the crime scene?

Answer: I honestly have no idea why my prints would be there. I was working at the pizza parlor all day. You can check with my boss.

Who is the guilty suspect? _____

Why is he the guilty suspect? Gather all of the information you have collected.
